Sort is on Yield, but ... © Connolly Report since 1981 Vol. XLI

Duration list (for valuation) sub-text is streak of consecutive D.G. dividendgrowth.ca Jan 17 2022

★ Dividends here are for the 2021 calendar year and do NOT account for 2022 increases in banks, CUetc:

NOTE: Yield is mostly as of Dec 31 '21 dividends with Jan 17'22 prices. Ignore middle of yield list (banks) here So, I separated the banks with horizontal lines. Notice 2021 dividend growth: 4.2% growth + 3.5*% yield = 7.7%

Stock selection with C.A.P.E.: from Telus up at 14, Atco GWO and BNS and CU for 'value' investors.

Stock selection with G%D: CU, BNS, Power. Jan 17 price is near Graham price. E.&O.E.

Portfolio selections should reflect objectives, preferences, risk tolerance, diversification, return expectations, time horizons, income needs...

That Enbridge's dividend increase in '21&'22 was only 3%, I think, tells their talk Cdn Utilities' was only 1.01%

Are companies near top (dogs) riskier than dear companies near the bottom? ← Think on this for a while!

You've heard of Dogs of the Dow. For this list, how about: dogs, darlings (sweet spots) and dears (expensive)?
